Nappanee High School

Nappanee, Indiana

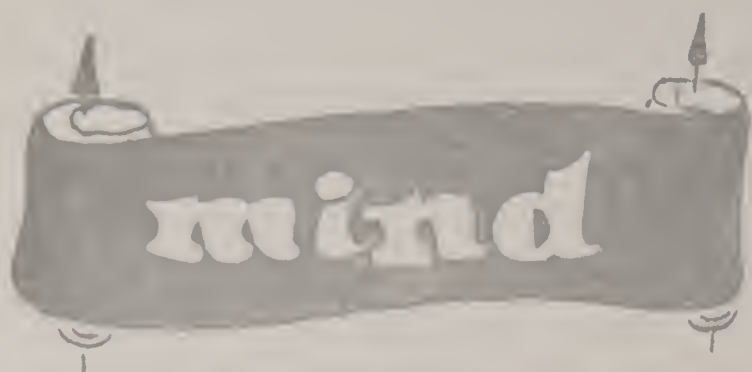

Growing in mind . . . body . . . spirit . . . at Nappanee High School

Every phase of school life this year helped to develop the mind, body, and spirit of each student.

The building of the mind was centered in the classroom, the body in athletics and physical education classes. The spirit was developed not only by supporting our school in athletic contests but also by participating in speech and essay competition.

Training the mind and hand . . .

DRIVERS TRAINING

Susie is taking her turn at the wheel of the drivers training car as Mr. Courtney helps the class learn the fundamentals of driving. This is one class in which the students learn by doing.

GOVERNMENT

Government and economics, senior subjects, were taught by Mr. Springer. We studied the functions of the local, state, and national government. This knowledge helped our graduates to become better citizens.

SPANISH

Second year Spanish, one of the smallest classes in high school, consisted of only six students who were eager to learn how to "hablar espanol."

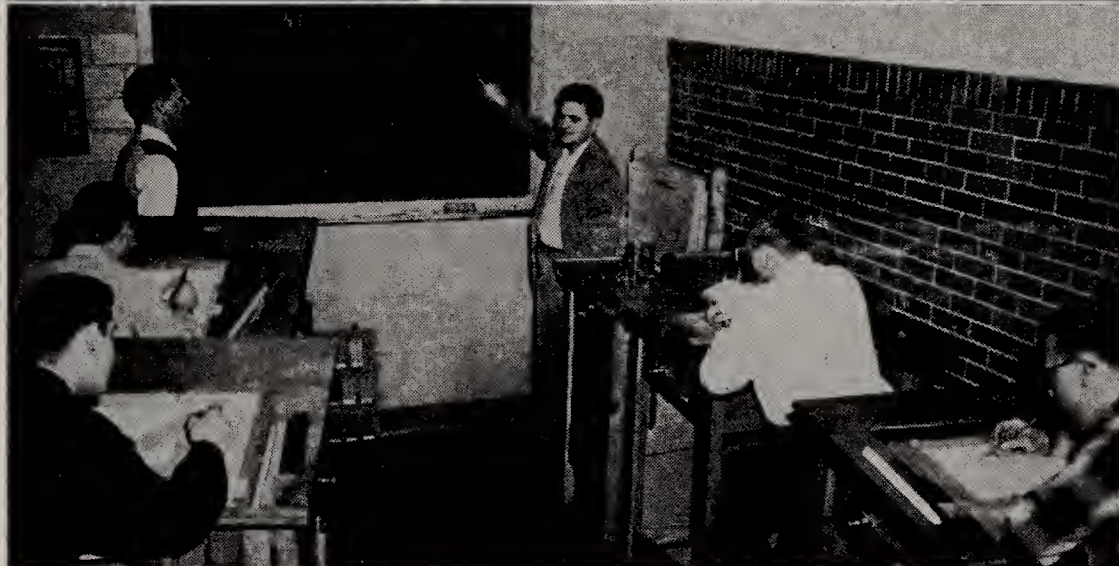

Developing skills and crafts . . .

HOME ECONOMICS

The first semester concentrates on cooking and the second semester stresses sewing, as Sandy is demonstrating.

MECHANICAL DRAWING

Three dimensional drawing is one of the technical skills acquired by students enrolled in the mechanical drawing class.

HISTORY

Noel points out an area important during the American Revolution. People, events, and dates in history are a part of our American background.

Stressing techniques . . .

CHEMISTRY

With the help of Mr. Garretson, the science class learned the fundamentals of chemistry. It really wouldn't have been a complete year without the little explosions in the pipes of the sinks and the "rotten egg" odor of carbon bisulfide.

SPEECH

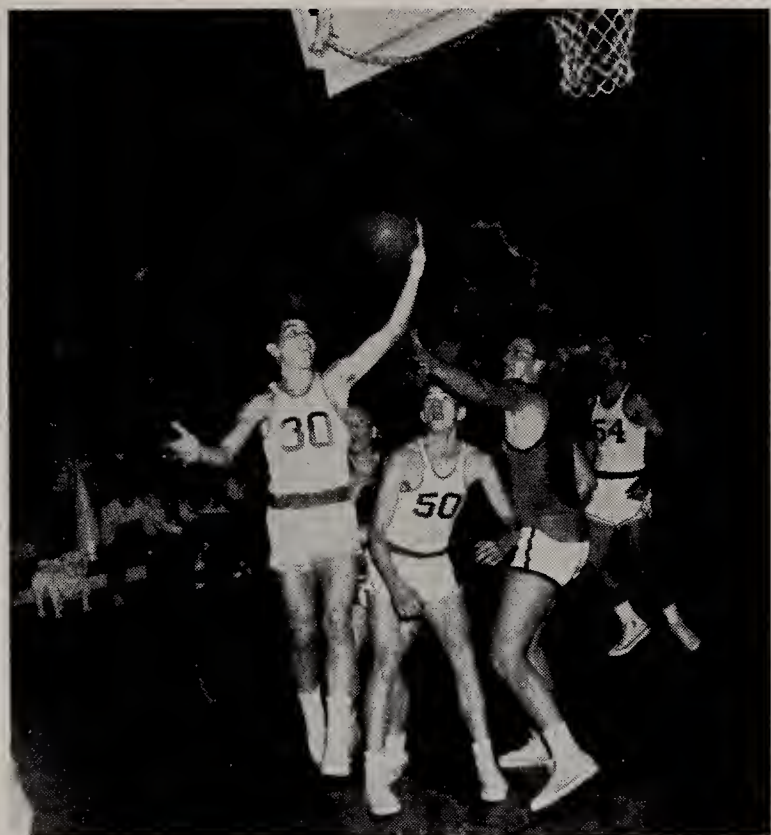

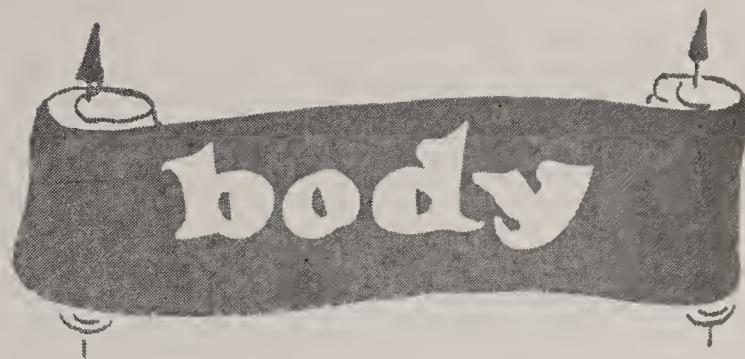

The speech class participated in the annual activities of the class by presenting our Christmas program at the First Brethren Church. Members also took part in the J.C.C. speech contest and in the "Junior Town Meeting of the Air" held at Nappanee this year.

TYPING

The advanced typing class's being very small was no hindering factor to the D'Bulldog staff. They always got the school paper out on time and did various other tasks such as typing essays for the English III and IV classes, besides doing their own assignments.

Building the body . . .

SPORTS

Body building through varsity sports is only one of the features of the school's physical education program. In gym classes, too, students participate in similar games.

GIRLS PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Sturdy muscles are built through the activity in the physical education classes. The girls enjoy playing team sports of volleyball, basketball, softball, and deck tennis. Individual sports as tumbling, badminton, shuffleboard, and ping pong are also a part of the class program.

The pictures prove the enjoyment that the girls receive from these games.

Blue and White Queen and Court . . .

During the half-time ceremonies of the Nappanee-Garrett football game, Connie Fervida was crowned "Blue and White Queen" by senior players Richard Wright and Jerry Reed. She reigned over the 1955-56 sports season.

Runners-up in the election for the queen were two members of the senior class, Janet Culp and Patricia Snider. They served as the queen's immediate attendants. Pictured below them are the attendants representing each class. Left to right: Sandra Thomas, seventh grade; Sharon Sechrist, freshman; Anita Hoover, sophomore; Susan Templeton, eighth grade; Jean Swihart, junior.

Contests . . .

Athletic

A very special pep session precedes the sectional tourney. After a few words by the coach, players are introduced and invited to speak briefly about their hopes for the big contest. Richard Wright, Eddie Foster, James Brunso, Vance Lopp, Larry Lakins, Gerald Mattern, and Thomas Conrad have spoken very briefly.

Speech

The winners of the speech contest sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce are being presented with their awards by Mrs. Lucy Miles. First prize winner, Philip Lehman, received a radio, and pens were presented to Kathleen Hahn and Linda Chandler, second and third prize winners respectively.

Essay

Mrs. John Geyer is presenting these students with the money and awards they won in the V.F.W. essay contest, "America, the Beacon of Hope." First prize winner, John Stahly, received a gold medal and nine dollars. Second to fifth prizes ranged from seven dollars for second place winner Janet Culp, to one dollar for Mary Lu Miller, fifth place winner. Patricia Snider and Richard Wright won third and fourth places.

The Year's Events

These are some of the everyday things that make a year so interesting.

Mr. Hartle awards Mike, Ed, and Russell trophies which they had won during the summer recreation program.

With the aid of field glasses, Ernie is able to see the blackboard from the back of the long drawing room.

A wide piece of adhesive tape is the only way teachers can keep Jim from talking. Laney is shown in background.

Larry and Russell enjoy the noon activity of ping-pong as Leroy and Noel look on.

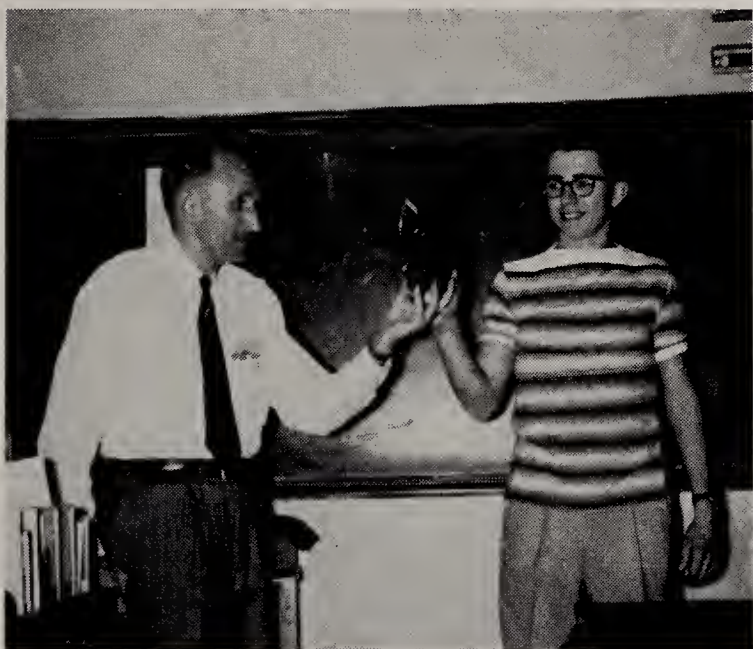

Steve, Jan, Larry, Jim, Jan, and Jack are the winners of each class in this intramural sport. Connie is top girl bowler.

Chris noses out Harold in the intramural checker tourney.

Seniors conduct concessions at basketball games and wrestling matches.

Mr. Postma awards Dave a camera for being high magazine salesman.

Barb and Jack watch as Mr. Webb awards a band sweater to Walter.

Seniors learn who's who in the senior play, "Don't Take My Penny."

Barb assists Pat enact the "Macbeth" sleep walking scene as Phil and Eddie look on.

“Don’t Take My Penny!”

Sally and Mark plan their little white cottage.

Gram watches Mrs. Pringle shake an accusing finger at her husband, Caleb.

Kerry as Mr. Day and Greg as Gloria Lovely stage a phony love scene.

Seniors presented a three act comedy on April 19 and 20, at 8:00 P.M., at the Nappanee Community Building.

Movie-mad Penny aspires to play the star role in the movie version of a popular novel whose author is searching the country for his ideal “Dimity West,” the heroine of his book. A clever publicity agent has plans for a former child movie star to be “discovered” by the author. And the author does choose a star for his play—but the girl he chooses surprises everyone, including Mavis herself.

"Song of the Islands" . . . '55 Reception

A climax of the 1954-55 school year was May 20, when the juniors honored the departing seniors with a reception in the Athenian Room, Hotel Elkhart.

As they entered the beautifully decorated ball room they had the impression of stepping off a boat onto the "Island of Paradise," Hawaii. They were presented with leis in the true Hawaiian tradition. The theme "Song of the Islands" was carried through by miniature volcanos as the center piece at each table and "hula girls" as place cards. Huge palm trees placed about the floor added to the Hawaiian atmosphere. Immediately following dinner Walter Corwin, junior class president, welcomed the members of the senior class. Alan Wilt, president of the senior class, then thanked the juniors and very informally gave a short dissertation on teachers at Nappanee High School. Then Kathleen Hahn, chairman of the will committee, read the will which pointed out some of the seniors' idiosyncrasies. The prophecy committee, consisting of Barbara Stahly, Patricia Snider, and Janet McFall, let everyone in on the futures of the seniors as they read them from the crystal ball.

To complete the program the Warsaw Dramatics Club presented some of its prize winning skits.

Music was provided immediately after the program for the guests who wished to attend the prom.

Anna Woodhams

Nurse

As Anna Woodhams applies merthiolate or band-aids, or gives little white pills for headaches, she talks and soothes the pain. Annie also performs many other services about the school and gives much needed motherly advice.

Cafeteria

"Please, Mrs. Lockwood, I'll give you two lunch tickets tomorrow; I forgot to get one today."

"I'm sorry; to the end of the line."

This was a familiar conversation during the past school year. Our cooks had to prepare meals for the Central Grade Building and the High School besides cooking and carrying food to the South Elementary School and the Park Building.

Bus Drivers Bookstore Custodians

Having a very responsible job, our good-natured bus drivers always seemed to get us to school and home again on time. Although there was a hopeful group of students when the bus started coughing or there was a snow storm in the morning, students were usually disappointed by the driver's repairing the trouble or the bus's yellow head coming through the blizzard down the road.

Every morning and noon Barbara McDonald helped Carol Miller and Mr. White sell pencils, notebooks, paper, and other necessities. Besides selling these to the students, Mr. White was in charge of issuing textbooks and the many other classroom supplies.

Students who did not come to school early, stay late, nor come on Saturdays probably never saw our janitors who worked principally at those times. Keeping our school neat and tidy, scraping the gum off the floors and desks, picking up candy wrappers, and washing our chalky black-

Classes

Working together helps to build your personality and character. Class activities such as the seniors planning their trip, practicing for the class play, and participating in all the pleasures which go with the process of graduation; juniors receiving their class rings and preparing for the reception in honor of the seniors; sophomores selling candy; and freshmen conducting their paper drive are all a part of growing as a student at N.H.S. where permanent friendships are made.

Mrs. Hoffer awards Betty Woodhams the Betty Crocker "Homemaker of the Year" pin earned by scoring highest in the test given to all senior girls.

Larry McDonald, John Stahly, and Kenneth Young display the several awards earned for the superior goals reached in supervised farm projects. Larry raised pigs and corn, John concentrated on corn, and Kenny produced wheat.

Each year state colleges and universities conduct academic and psychological tests for seniors throughout the state. From Nappanee Betty Woodhams, Marlan Miller, Philip Lehman, Edwin Berger, Mary Lu Miller, and Kenneth Stump qualified for state scholarships.

Winners

From Mrs. John Geyer, John Stahly accepts the medal for writing the prize winning essay entitled "America, the Beacon of Hope." His essay also won first in the district V.F.W. contest.

A representative from Purdue congratulates Kenny Stump and Richard Wright for winning the blue ribbon on their Ballistics project displayed at the second annual Science and Mathematics Fair. They also received second at the Elkhart County Fair sponsored by the same department.

Seven semesters of high school work determine the selection of valedictorian and salutatorian. Patricia Snider, Kathleen Hahn, Connie Fervida, and Mary Lu Miller have grades so comparable that all four are named for establishing high scholastic records.

Seniors

Walter Corwin, Philip Lehman, Connie Hossler.

For twelve years we have looked forward to 1956 when we would become graduates of N.H.S. During those years each of us has grown in Mind, Body, and Spirit.

Some of us have excelled Scholastically; some of us have outstanding records in Athletics; and all of us, through the Spirit of co-operation in selling taffy, conducting concessions at basketball games and wrestling matches, and presenting the senior class play, have attained the goal of the traditional senior trip.

Those who represented our class in Student Council and National Honor Society were Betty Woodhams, Kathleen Hahn, Mary Lu Miller, Patricia Snider, Philip Lehman, Edwin Berger, Eddie Foster, and Connie Fervida.

Sophomores

The sophomore class officers were elected at the beginning of the school year. Robert McDonald and Larry Cripe represented our class on the Student Council.

Then came the project all the sophomores had been waiting for—selling candy—and with the co-operation of everyone the sales turned out to be very successful.

Under the direction of Mr. Hartle and Mr. Frederick, we considered this to be a highly successful year.

Juniors

We, the class of '57, started the year under the leadership of our president, Vance Lopp, and our sponsors, Mrs. Miles and Mr. Postma, by having the traditional magazine sales. We set our goal at three thousand dollars, which we accomplished. David Arch received a camera for selling the most magazines. In January, Mrs. Miles' homeroom gave a party for Mr. Postma's homeroom, the best magazine salesmen.

The Student Council and National Honor Society representatives were Linda Chandler, Judy Martin, and Vance Lopp.

Freshmen

Our class sponsors Miss Pauline Hoover, Miss Weaver, and Mr. Hazelrigg have helped us through our freshman year. April was our busy month. We had the traditional freshman paper drive on April 14 and our class skating party on April 25.

The class of '59 elected Helen Umbaugh, Lee Price, and Carole Arnold as Student Council representatives.

Activities

Activities are all very much a part of the curriculum at Nappanee High School. Clubs and organizations are formed for the purpose of providing service to the school and community and helping students to work together smoothly and efficiently. Extracurricular activities help to broaden the students' interests and to develop their sense of responsibility.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society, which consists of eight seniors and three juniors selected by faculty members on the basis of scholarship, leadership, service, and character, this year polished the school's trophies and took a scholastic survey of high school classes following each six weeks' grading period. A picture frame was refinished; in it will be displayed the names of all Nappanee National Honor Society members from the date of its charter in 1936. In the twenty years of its history approximately 160 graduates have been chosen to belong to the honorary society.

Student Council

The Student Council is an organization formed for the purpose of giving students a representative government in their school. Through the Student Council the students can meet with the administrative body to solve the problems of student body control.

This year the council completed several different projects which are as follows: sponsoring the election of the "Blue and White Queen," decorating the school for Christmas, and sponsoring four assembly programs. Our two biggest projects were the choosing of a unified school jacket and collecting material for the compiling of an N.H.S. Handbook. Mr. Weddle worked with the members to make this a very effective year for the Student Council.

Senior Y-Teens

Wieners, doughnuts, and cider! On these Y-Teen members gorged at the first social event of the year, a wiener roast at Syracuse Lake. The next special event was the traditional Mother and Daughter Banquet on December 13.

Unique Christmas bells were used as decorations at the Christmas banquet and sold as our main money-making project. For our service project we collected money for the Heart Fund.

It was a new, interesting experience for most of the staff and they enjoyed it very much. They especially hope that for years to come you will enjoy looking through these picture-packed pages.

Senior Band

The band under the capable direction of Mr. Fred Webb was busy from the very beginning of the school year. It marched at all the football games and in December combined with the chorus to give a Christmas Concert. In February the band brought many first and second division honors back from District Solo and Ensemble Contest and two weeks later added more from State Contest. In March the band gave a spring concert and went to District Contest where it won a first. On April 4 the group sponsored a concert by a sixty-eight piece band from Salem, Indiana, and went to State Contest on the following Saturday where it missed a first by one point. The band took its annual spring trip and in May closed its activities by giving a Mother's Day Concert and playing for Commencement.

Chorus

The chorus was reorganized this year under our new director, Miss Fissgus. It was composed of seventy-four members, of which twenty-eight were boys. The chorus met during two activity periods and one night rehearsal per week. Robert McDonald was chosen president.

From the chorus a triple trio and quartet were chosen which along with soloists went to district and state contests.

The triple trio, quartet, and whole chorus sang for various community groups and gave a Christmas concert with the senior band. Also it presented an attractively staged program, "Springtime is Singtime" in May.

Librarians

With the help of Miss Weaver, these girls soon learned to become efficient librarians. They worked together promoting the library in the school. They helped students find books and use the card catalog. They helped in getting the books ready for circulation, filing cards, typing book lists, advertising books, and taking care of book circulation both in the grades and in the high school.

We held a parent and son banquet in March. We also had an F.F.A. basketball team that played other F.F.A. chapters, churches, and independent teams.

During the basketball season the club sponsored a coat check room to provide money for a club trip to Detroit, Michigan, to the General Motors Cadillac Division and other places of interest. The club also had an Employee-Employer Banquet.

Football

Great Work Fellas!! When the 1955 football season rolled around not much was expected from the team composed only of greenhorns. But to the fans' amazement the Bulldog eleven came through with the best season ever witnessed by Nappanee High School. Nappanee's only loss came from Plymouth, who finished its season undefeated. The Bulldogs ended with 8 wins and 1 loss.

Even with a size handicap the Bulldogs showed their opponents that size is not the main factor in winning. Because of the capable direction of our great coach Bob Courtney, and his assistant Joe Springer, and because of the Bulldogs' desire to win and their speed, the season was a success.

Almost every N.H.S. individual record was broken by Nappanee's outstanding fullback, Richard Wright. Rich made the All-State first team and Jerry Reed received honorable mention.

Lost by graduation were Warren Brock, Walter Corwin, Philip Lehman, Kenneth Stump, Edwin Berger, James Brunso, Fred Hockert, John Stahly, Jerry Reed, Richard Wright, Eddie Foster, and Leo Williams.

Basketball

Nappanee's basketball team showed this year that experience is not the biggest factor toward a successful season, '55-56. Vance Lopp was the only regular from last year's team and most of the Bulldogs came from the second team. Through his outstanding coaching Guy Conrad made the Bulldogs look as if they were not inexperienced.

The Bulldogs started slowly and cautiously but ended with Nappanee's longest winning streak in recent years, eleven wins in a row. The final record was sixteen wins and six losses. Nappanee was the only team able to defeat Bremen in seasonal play. Perhaps the Bulldogs' most outstanding game of the year came against the Garrett Railroaders. Garrett was highly favored over the Dogs, but at the end of the game Garrett had lost. Nappanee played almost perfect ball that game. Congratulations to a fine coach and a fine team for a job well done.

Mr. Conrad will not be with us next season for he has chosen to retire from coaching and teaching. Nappanee feels that she is losing one of the greatest coaches the school has ever had. His fine record of 60 wins and 31 losses in four years at N.H.S. is indicative of his enviable ability.

Nappanee scores two points.

N-Men's Club

Boys who have earned letters in athletics are eligible to become members of the N-Men's Club. These boys secured sponsors for the basketball schedules along with other projects.

A picnic was held between football and basketball seasons at Philip Lehman's and Richard Wright's lake cottages. The annual banquet honoring the athletes was held on April 13. Awards for the most valuable player in each sport and the most valuable seniors were given. Honor jackets were presented to senior members.

The sponsors of the club were Mr. Springer, Mr. Courtney, and Mr. Conrad.

G. A. A.

The 1955-56 calendar was filled with many activities for G.A.A. members. The schedule included such sports as softball, deck tennis, volleyball, basketball, and bowling. We also attended two playdays this year. The sports were badminton and basketball. These playdays were held at Plymouth and Elkhart. In January we won our basketball game over Bremen, which was our first competitive sport. Our annual banquet was held in May.

Cheerleaders

Our peppy cheerleaders Pat, Rosemary, Dixie, and Connie added much color and activity to both our football and basketball games this year.

Through much practice and many aching muscles they put variety into yells by adding splits and summersaults to their routine. They also introduced some clever new yells.

They led us in cheers through victory and defeat, always showing good sportsmanship.

Track

A sport increasing in popularity at N.H.S. is track. Although there are not the crowds attending and the enthusiasm for it as in the other sports, it is growing each year. This year forty boys were out for track. This is more than have shown an interest in past years. The five seniors on the team were Richard Wright, Walter Corwin, Edwin Berger, Warren Brock, and Russell Hepler.

The team had not yet participated in any meets at the time the Napanet went to press, but the reports are good and we want to wish them luck. Last year's team had a successful season, winning the sectional track meet, and breaking numerous records. Let's hope the '56 team can do as well.
